SCHOOL SONG

Calypso, our Alma Mater,
 Her name we will always sing.
 Our hearts are full of gladness,
 That gives us courage on our way.
 Loyal, we'll be forever, happily
 we'll meet success.
 But the things for which we strive are honor and truthfulness.

CHORUS

Come on, students, honor our old High, Calypso,
 Here we come, just see our colors fly, red and gold.
 Forward march, let this our motto be, Victory,
 We'll forget her never,
 We will honor her forever,
 True and loyal we will always be.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Our freshman year how we did love it,
And our sophomore year we weren't above it.
Came our junior year full of thrills,
Our senior year, bills, bills, bills.

We braved the storms, we braved the battles,
We had no quarrels, there were no tattles.
We've stuck together through thick and thin,
No matter the task and no matter when.

We had days off for our senior play,
It was a great success, thanks to prayer.
With skill and guidance HE helped us thro' it,
As a class we were one and were able to do it.

Patiently we await that important day,
When we receive our diplomas and are on our way.
To leave with good-byes and salutations,
On that great night of graduation.

WILMA MILLARD

CLASS PROPHECY

Warren, you've surely given me lots of ideas. The first thing I'm going to do when I return to Virginia is prepare a plant bed for that new variety of pepper that you find so profitable. Managing this farm is right up your line, isn't it?

Excuse me, just long enough to look once more to see if Mattie and Frank are coming up the lane. He promised to meet her plane in Raleigh. You knew that the Powers Modeling Agency is sending her to Miami for the winter season. Frank is becoming rather well known for his personal interviews with unusual people. His high school career helped fit him, and also gave him much material for his column. The New York Times was elated over his interviews with Carrie Mae, one of the few women morticians; J. L., who has been chosen to succeed J. Edgar Hoover; C. D., who pilots the fastest jet owned by Uncle Sam; and Bobbie and Evelyn, who, when only student nurses, discovered a very effective way to curb polio. He hopes that his next foreign assignment will be to Asia so that he can get an "on the job" report from Wesley, who is constructing an elevator from the base to the tip of Mt. Everest.

Oh, drat it. You watch the lane while I answer the telephone.

Warren, this is getting serious. Wanish just called to say that the wedding party will leave in just a few minutes for the church. They're at Shirley's now, and she's putting the last bow on Shirley Marie's dress. Wanish never thought that Shirley's second child would be a flower girl at her wedding.

But why don't the others come? or call? or do something???

Happy day! Look who's coming up the lane - but Holy Smoke! A patrol car is in fast pursuit. They're getting out, and I must say that he's a gallant policeman. But this one should be. It's Johnny; he always wanted to drive fast and now he gets paid for it.

Take them in, Warren. Here come some more cars and some more excuses. These ten always could think of more excusable excuses than I could.

Lillie, it's perfectly all right, even if you had been dressed for an hour, you had to answer Dr. Lee's call and give the anesthetic for that emergency operation. Yes, your hair's a little mussed, but there's a powder room on the right.

Gerald, news reporters always come at the wrong time but publicity means a lot to a man in your position. It takes a fine coach to come through with a national championship baseball team.

Henry, say no more; but get yourself a new assistant tomorrow morning. A pharmacist can't have an inexperienced jerk like that mixing formulas. Such a conglomeration would explode and blow us all to smithers.

No, Arnold, it's not your fault. The card does read 3:45 instead of 3:15. I surely am glad that Mr. Du Pont believes in arriving promptly and adjourned the director's meeting early so that you could be on your way.

Norwood, today was a fine time for the president of A. and P. to give a surprise luncheon in honor of your record for dependability, loyalty to the company, and service to the public, but it's something a man can't walk away from. Congratulations!

Barbara, you're completely blameless—your baby sitter came on time, you dressed, everything was in perfect readiness; but Virginia did not know that the merchandise would arrive today. One requirement that Ricks' demands of all their managers is that they personally inspect imported china before it goes in stock. Your being there to help avoided further delay.

Betty, no wonder you forgot that time was passing. It isn't everyday that a girl's husband calls from Germany to get the home town gossip, and then, you had to let all the in-laws know that he is fine.

Smile, Wilma, and you shall have my forgiveness. There must be dozens of last minute details to be taken care of when one plans a reception for the class of '54, especially since it's a wedding reception. I'm so anxious to meet your family and see your new home. My fiancée? I'll tell you about her later. Let's follow the others to the church now. We have just five minutes.

CLASS HISTORY

We, the seniors of 1954, as freshmen in 1950, met many difficulties and pleasures in adjusting ourselves to high school. We began with Mr. Owens as our home room teacher. When he was called into military service, Mr. Bowens replaced him. Our class officers were: Marvin Cotton, President; Mattie Hill, Secretary; Wilma Millard, Treasurer.

All of us enjoyed compiling a community textbook as an activity in our civics class. Barbara Wilson, Betty Joyner, Virginia Pigford, Gerald Garris and Hilbert Swinson distinguished themselves by making the high school basketball teams.

We began our second year with a new home room teacher, Mr. Thompson. Then we really settled down to work. Among our accomplishments were the organization of a Biology Club and cooking cakes for the art exhibit. Since all of us are so fond of cake, we had several bakings before the desired effect was attained. Various parties and picnics kept us happy.

Mrs. Martin became our leader in our third year. One of the highlights of this year was the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. In line with our times, we used the coronation theme and crowned as king and queen, Reima Hargrove and Martha Carol Sellars, from the senior class. Earning the money, preparing the food, and decorating for this event gave us a few headaches, but we enjoyed it. During this year the seniors elected Barbara Wilson, Rossie Brock, Arnold Jones and Hilbert Swinson as school marshals, and Henry Walker, President; Betty Joyner, Vice-President; Barbara Wilson, Secretary; and Gerald Garris, Treasurer, were elected as officers. We were represented on the basketball teams by Betty Joyner, Virginia Pigford, Wesley Cook, Gerald Garris, Henry Walker, and Hilbert Swinson.

Our final year was to be our busiest and our happiest. Mrs. Martin remained with us. We elected the following officers: Henry Walker, President; Barbara Wilson, Secretary; Gerald Garris, Vice-President; Wesley Cook, Treasurer. We elected for our mascots: Terry Hatch and Jimmie Wolfe. Then began our long list of activities which were to be climaxed by a visit to our National Capitol. First we sold magazines, then straight to work on "That Crazy Smith Family" - next basketball season, with many of us playing and others managing concession booths at games. In December we seriously became annual conscious (had to with a December 15th deadline).

Now we are looking forward to serving the Rotary Club, to spring activities, and finally to our graduation day.

It is with a deep feeling of gratitude that we say "Thanks" to all who have helped us. We are especially grateful to Mrs. Martin for her patient understanding and thoughtful guidance during our Junior and Senior years, and to our grade mothers who have done so much to add to our happiness.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-four, Calypso High School, in the County of Duplin, State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and realizing our impending departure from this school, do hereby declare and make this our Last Will and Testament:

ARTICLE I

To our parents and teachers, whose love, guidance, and sacrifices have made it possible for us to become seniors, we leave our sincerest and deepest gratitude.

ARTICLE II

To our principal, Mr. Grubbs, we leave our thanks for his patience and understanding.

ARTICLE III

Our position as Seniors, we leave to the Junior Class, in hopes they can do as well as we have.

ARTICLE IV

Betty Joyner leaves her red convertible to no one, as she couldn't get along without it herself.

Johnny Wiggins leaves his ability to sleep on class to Ed Lewis, Jr. Wilma Millard, unwillingly, leaves her love for Grantham to David Earl Rivelands.

Shirley Wallace leaves her witty ways to Mavis Kennedy, hoping she will take advantage of the opportunity.

Warren Henning leaves his ability to obtain a date with any girl he wants to L. H. Byrd, Jr.

Evelyn Jones leaves her honesty to anyone who feels as though they could use it.

Cerold Garris leaves his love for the Warsaw girls to Jam Brock, who is so irresistible.

Virginia Pigford leaves her basketball suit to Nancy Sue Roberts, as she won't be around to use it come next year.

Wesley Cook leaves his ability to take pictures to Joel Harris, hoping he will help make next year's annual as good as "Memories of '54".

Norwood Miller leaves his babyish ways to Patsy Sue Smith.

Bobbie Swinson leaves her beloved school bus, Number 53, to Charles Walker.

Carrie Mae Pate leaves her quietness to Carolyn Faye Wiggins, goodness knows she could use it.

Henry Walker, reluctantly, leaves his masculine ways to Arnold Ray Malpass, hoping he won't have any cause to use them.

Lillie Smith, wills her romantic beauty to none other than Ada Margaret Barfield.

Hilbert Swinson leaves his pretty legs to Thomas Stanley. Says Thomas' legs are two and far between.

Marlie Hill doesn't want to leave anything behind, but since it's her last year she leaves her figure and ability to flirt with boys to Martha Ann Sutton.

C. D. Pate leaves his rightness to his charming cousin, Donald.

Barbara Wilson leaves her love for two-tone Chevroleets to Iris Underhill.

Arnold Jones leaves his rank as private first class to the next person who joins the National Guards.

Wendish Waters leaves her friendliness to Peggy Turner.

Frank Precycyte leaves his ability to get to school on time to Owen Wilson, Jr.

J. L. Whitfield leaves his curly hair to Ernest Whitman in hopes it will help him attract the girls.
