CLASS HISTORY

My, we were confused that morning in 1951 when we 51 timid individuals entered high school. We felt somewhat like grown-ups, with changing classes and basketball practice. Our class officers were Nelson Martin for the girls and Mrs. Shelton Taylor for the boys. The home room teachers were Mrs. Robert Raleigh and Chapel Hill with Mrs. Taylor as chaperon. Joel made the basketball team.

During our Sophomore year the reins of the class were in the hands of Charles James, Marie Joyner, Martha Carol Myers, and Mavis Kennedy. We really settled down to work. Our biology club and parties (especially the one at Dudley Beach) made the year pass more pleasantly and quickly. Billy Ray joined Joel on the team.

Then we were Juniors. Our class officers, Peggy Williamson, Nelson Brogden, L. H. Byrd, Jr., and Martha Carol Myers, guided us through a year filled with activity. Earning the money, preparing the food, and decorating for the Junior-Senior Banquet was work, but we enjoyed it all. We chose as the theme, "Hitch Your Wagon to a Star," and our banquet was a glowing success. The seniors chose from our class the following marshals: Iris Underhill, Martha Carol Myers, Stanly Byrd, and Billy Godwin.

We are now in the midst of our busiest and happiest year. We are the Seniors. Our adviser is, as she was during our Sophomore and Junior years, Mrs. Shelton Taylor. With her to inspire and guide us, we have been better able to perform our duties, conduct a worthwhile magazine sale, and produce a successful play, called "Everybody's Crazy." In the same praiseworthy manner we expect to publish the annual and conduct the final events of the year.

We will always carry with us the memories of high school and our love and gratitude for our teachers.

CLASS PROPHECY

On a clear cool Thursday in December, 1965, I hurried aboard a passenger plane in Washington, D. C., for this was the beginning of a three days' vacation during which I would learn the fate of my former classmates. As we were taxiing down the runway, I looked up in the face of Martha Carol Myers in a stewardess' uniform, looking prettier than ever. She told me that recently she had seen Harris Merritt, who owns an airplane and jet base in California. She was sorry they were not going to be able to be in Calypso for the homecoming dinner and basketball game the following day.

Anyway, there were sixteen of the class of '55 present. There was Owen, a dealer for the Ford Company...Barbara and Pearl, who had returned from a convention in Florida with their heads full of ideas for the Pate and Grice Beauty Salon...and Major Stanley, very handsome in his army uniform...Robert was late coming in from Salisbury, where he is the proud manager of a new Rose's Store...Donald, now married to a girl he was seen with almost constantly in high school, has taken over the management of his father's farms...We promised Nelson we would listen to him call figures at the weekly Saturday night square dance at the Calypso American Legion Hut...Mavis looked wonderful and enjoys her work as head of the commercial department at Mt. Allen Junior College. Another college instructor home for this occasion was L. H., teacher of Chemistry at A.C.C. He is really having a time. Our other classmate in the educational field is Marie. She is now teaching in a high school in Columbia, South Carolina...McEnnis beamed as he was praised for his tobacco growing record. Old Mack learned a lot even if he did sleep half the time on Mr. Hurdles' class...Bruce came from Warsaw, where he is part owner of a furniture store...Billy Ray modestly admitted that he is one of the best land surveyors in Eastern Carolina...To be with us, Peggy Williamson left her post as superintendent of nurses at a Wilmington Hospital...Arnold Ray owns a chain of outdoor theaters including the Clear-View, where he worked during his Senior year at Calypso.

Joel couldn't be with us as he was on tour with the Milwaukee Hawks...Iris wired she didn't dare come home for fear she might miss her chance as a beginning opera star...M. D. sent word he would be thinking of us from his base in Alaska, where he is a Chief Petty Officer in the Navy...Austin was absent too, as we know he is too busy making money with his fleet of trucks operating out of Richmond.

I returned to my work in the office of the Representative from our Congressional District happier, because I had seen or heard from all the Calypso Seniors of 1955.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Calypso High School, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-Five, being of sound mind and realizing that our impending departure from this school is close at hand, do hereby declare and make this our last will and testament, on this, the second day of February.

ARTICLE I

To our beloved parents, who have stood by us through thick and thin, we leave our appreciation and love.

ARTICLE II

To our respected faculty we leave our thanks for encouraging and pushing us along.

ARTICLE III

To the most wonderful principal and coach that we've ever known we leave our love and gratitude for having so much patience with us when things didn't run smoothly.

ARTICLE IV

To our Seniors of '56 we leave our places at the top of the ladder.

ARTICLE V

To the Underclassmen we leave these familiar abilities, features, and characteristics:

- I, Nelson Brogden, leave my Faison girl friends to Jam Brock.
- I, Iris Underhill, leave my ways with the boys to Ann Sutton.
- I, Stanley Byrd, leave my flirty ways to Charles Byrd, hoping he will take advantage of them.
- I, Billy Ray Godwin, leave my ability to eat to Charles Faulk in hopes that it will give him muscles.
- I, Joel Harris, leave my ability to play basketball to Jerry Lee and hope he enjoys playing as much as I did.
- I, Pearl Pate, leave my quietness to Betty Gray Johnson.
- I, Arnold Ray Malpass, leave my wavy hair to Ed Lewis in hopes he will change his porcupine style.
- I, Peggy Williamson, leave my basketball suit to Betty Lou Holland, hoping it will bring her much success.
- I, Peggy Turner, leave my witty ways to Nita Mae Jones, hoping they will add to her ability to win friends and influence people.
- I, Barbara Ann Grice, leave my shyness to Faye Wiggins.
- I, Martha Carol Myers, leave my giggles to Hilda McArthur but warn her not to use them on class.
- I, Marie Joyner, leave my love of two-tone Chevrolets to Virginia Kennedy. Satisfied, Virginia?
- I, Harris Merritt, leave my class ring to Mary Rose Davis, promising to exchange it for another later.
- I, Owen Wilson, Jr., leave my pestering ways to Thomas Swinson.
- I, McEnnis Rose, leave my ability to sleep on Mr. Hurdle's Class to Randy Rouse.
- I, L. H. Byrd, Jr., leave my ability to experiment in Chemistry Lab to Charles Walker.
- I, Austin House, leave my smile which turns away wrath to Oliver Faulk.
- I, Robert Grice, leave my job as Rose's stock room manager to Dick Lewis, as I am heading toward a managership.
- I, Mavis Kennedy, leave my friendliness and job of studying to Ellen Tadlock.
- I, Bruce Swinson, leave my shyness to my brother, Jimmie.
- I, Donald Pate, leave my ability to pitch baseball to Alvin Deaver, who has his heart set on becoming a pitcher.
- I, M. D. Davis, leave my position in the National Guard to my brother, Shelton, saying only this, "Bud, be sure you work harder than I did."

CLASS POEM

How we did love our freshman year,
There was no worry, there was no fear.
Then came our sophomore year, full of delight,
May 12, 1953, our junior year was in sight.

As juniors we were brave and ready,
At our work we were always steady,
Knowing that our banquet was on its way,
We kept anticipating that great day.

And when our senior year rolled around,
It found us wondering who would wear the crown,
We knew that one would be outstanding,
Yet, we all hoped for a happy landing.

And after the day that we graduate,
We know we will have to separate,
And seeing things with a slight resemblance,
Will bring our school days back to remembrance.

MAVIS KENNEDY

CLASS COLORS

Blue and Gold

CLASS MOTTO

Not merely to exist, but to amount to something in life.

CLASS FLOWER

White Carnation

SCHOOL SONG

Calypso, our Alma Mater,
Her name we will always sing.
Our hearts are full of gladness,
That gives us courage on our way.
Loyal, we'll be forever, happily
we'll meet success.
But the things for which we strive are honor and truthfulness.

CHORUS

Come on, students, honor our old High, Calypso,
Here we come, just see our colors fly, red and gold.
Forward march, let this our motto be, Victory,
We'll forget her never,
We will honor her forever,
True and loyal we will always be.
