DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of North Duplin High School, wish to dedicate this volume of the REBEL to MRS. ANNE MOORE LEWIS. Because of her boundless energy, her high standards of conduct, and her understanding of teenagers and their world, she has made a place for herself in our hearts. Along with "Mr. Bill," her so-nice husband, she worked tirelessly to make all of our projects successes. We will never forget our advisor with the red hair who guided us through our first three years in high school. Perhaps our appreciation is best expressed in these words of Guiterman:

"NO PRINTED PAGE NOR SPOKEN PLEA
MAY TEACH YOUNG HEARTS WHAT MEN SHOULD BE;
NOT ALL THE BOOKS ON ALL THE SHELVES
BUT WHAT THE TEACHERS ARE THEMSELVES."

FOREWORD

We, the Senior Class of 1959, are the first class to have completed four years at North Duplin High School. We have seen many things—piles of brick and sand become a modern, well-equipped building; a cotton patch become the best football field in the conference. Most important, we have seen groups of students from different communities become a student body working for their school. We have seen all these things, and we are proud to be graduates of such a school.

THE REBEL STAFF

To publish an annual requires money, thought, ingenuity, and time. Although we were sadly lacking in the first, we attempted to make up for this fact with the other qualities and publish the best REBEL yet. It required much behind-the-scenes work and effort on the part of the staff. But we worked. During the month of November we could be found at school as late as 7:00 in the evening. The typists would be busy with copy, while the proofreaders would be as busy correcting it. This meant a lot of retyping. The editor could be seen running from room to room in a state of insanity. The advisor had at least ten nervous breakdowns a day. The assistant editor sat in a chair and watched the proceedings with a glazed look in his eyes.

All the other staff worked busily too. Our advertising manager typed approximately four hundred thank-you notes to our advertisers. Our circulation manager made one thousand trips down the hall to collect annual payments. The business manager kept all the money in order, no small task. The photo editor arranged all the pictures. Those of us who had the prophecy, the last will and testament, and the history, tread paths to the English teacher's room. The sports editors were on hand for every game. Yes, we certainly were busy. But we had fun and we hope you will enjoy what we have done.

ADMINISTRATION

A desk, grade books, and red pencils signify the administration. But what does an administration do? Their duties are innumerable. A faculty first and foremost presents knowledge to young minds in the form of English, mathematics, sciences, histories, social studies, vocational studies, commercial courses, and foreign languages. A faculty guides the thoughts of students into the right channels. A faculty offers friendly advice and counsel, given for the student's own good. And usually the people giving students the desire to press forward are the faculty of the high school.

SENIORS

A class ring, a cap and gown, and a diploma signify a senior. A senior signifies four years of hard work; four years of giving all you've got; four years of trying to help yourself and your country along with it. After commencement, seniors become graduates, but they will always retain the memories of their senior year and remember it as being their best year in high school.

HISTORY

In August of 1955, our class underwent a strange experience. We not only had the first taste of high school but also entered a high school in its first year of consolidation. Some of us passed into this high school with bitter feelings. We soon found out they were unfounded. Not only did we have better facilities and teachers, we also had more friends.

This freshman year was full of many shocks. North Duplin's teachers seemed to want to get us started on the right track in our habits. Many of our class probably studied more in that one year than they had the four previous years. The "green freshmen", as we were called, participated in sports. Some played football; some basketball; some baseball. A few of us even became cheerleaders. Our advisors for our first year were Mrs. Frank Oliver and Mrs. Bill Lewis. We chose to lead us as our class officers: J. C. Millard, President; Jane Norman Albritton, Vice-President; Peggy King, Secretary; and Harper Pridgen, Treasurer. We had sixty members in our first year of high school. Our activities consisted of serving Sunday dinners, selling cards, selling hot dogs, taking a trip to the Ice Capades, and to the State Fair.

As Sophomores, we became too sophisticated to even condescend to speak to the lowly Freshmen. We elected as our class officers the following: Willis Weeks, President; Larry King, Vice-President; Jane Norman Albritton, Secretary; and Gail King, Treasurer. Have you ever hunted bugs? Well, we did. Sophomores could be found anywhere bugs could be found. This was one of the pastimes in which we indulged during our Sophomore year. The courses appeared to be even harder than last year. We found ourselves bogged down in homework. Our class number had dwindled down to forty-three by December of 1956. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Oliver remained as our advisors. This year, ten of us were tapped into the Beta Club. Many Sophomores were honored on Beta Recognition Day. Some of our class showed promising athletic ability. The class enjoyed a party held at the Fasion Community Building.

Our Junior year was one of work and activity. The thought of our Junior-Senior remained uppermost in our minds. We chose Nancy Williams as President for our class during this important year and other officers elected were: Jack Precythe, Vice-President; Ann House Jernigan, Secretary; and Jean Brock, Treasurer. Mr. W. H. Hurdle replaced Mrs. Oliver as our advisor, and both he and Mrs. Lewis strived to make our Junior-Senior a success. The Juniors went to Kenansville in April for Career Day. Mrs. Shelton Taylor was our chaperon, and some of us participated in the program. Among the money-making projects we had were the Junior-Play, "The Able Miss Cain," selling "Danny Duzzit's," and bake sales. We chose as the theme of our Junior-Senior "In an Old Chinese Garden." The decorations carried out the Oriental theme. The banquet was held April 11 in the new cafeteria, and the "Dave Brown Orchestra" provided the music. This Junior-Senior was the highlight of our Junior year, and all of us derived a great deal of pleasure in working on it.

Now we are Seniors. This is what we've worked to attain for three years. There are forty-four of us, all hoping to graduate. Our class officers are: Sybil McCullen, President; Charles Swinson, Vice-President; Joyce Roberts, Secretary; and Barbara Ann Ellis, Treasurer. The annual, the Senior Play, studies, the trip to Washington; we are in the midst of all these. Never before have we worked so hard. Under the guidance of Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Hurdle, we are completing our last year at North Duplin. Looking back, we realize that we've really had a grand time.

PROPHECY

Dear Marsh Baptist Church

Mount Olive, North Carolina

December 6, 1968

Mr. Willis Weeks, Principal
North Duplin High School
Calypso, North Carolina

Dear Willis:

I just wanted to tell you how proud I am of the grand job you are doing out at our old alma mater. I talked to Jane Norman the other day and she said that all of the teachers certainly enjoy working under you. Isn't it strange that Jane Norman and Glenda returned to teach English at their school?

I wrote Joyce and asked her to give us a good write-up on the class reunion. I'm sure she will as Larry King is the publisher and is always willing to help us in any way possible. Joyce said Lamar would be down December 5, to take pictures. By the way, Alec Ivey is joining their staff in January.

Will you please contact Norman Swinson who is the refreshment chairman for the reunion? I believe you could find him at his office at McBride and Herring's in Goldsboro. Amelia Grady wrote me she had seen Wade Taylor, who is a sportscaster for NBC, and asked him to be the guest speaker. She is a public relations official for Desilu Productions. She also received a letter from Cedric Jackson stating that he would be pleased to act as Master of Ceremonies. I guess you've seen his show, "Twenty Questions," originating from Chicago.

Tell Norman that Sybil wrote she was frantically trying to get away from the Metropolitan Opera long enough to come. Don't you think it would be nice if she would sing "The Lord's Prayer?" I'm sure Berta would be glad to play for her. Did you know Berta is an instructor in piano at Carolina? For the intellectual part of the program, I have asked Nancy Williams and Frances Farrior to give excerpts of the book on which they collaborated. I saw in the News and Observer that it was hitting the number one spot. The book section also had an article about Ann Jernigan's publishing company purchasing the rights to publish the works of Hemingway.

Oh yes, Sybil happened to mention that on a flight to Rome she met Marie Best and Barbara Jones. Marie was in her uniform, but Barbara was in street clothes. Finally, Sybil became so curious she asked Barbara where she was going. Well, it seems that Barbara, who is an air stewardess, had been on a flight with Joseph Foss. Joe's plane ran into foul weather and one of the engines coaxed out. Barbara said she was glad to get out alive. The doctor who attended her was Dallas Coltren. Would you have ever thought Dallas would become a doctor? Anyway, Barbara and Joe had received free vacations from the company and she was going to Nice. While there she was going to stay with Jimmy Kornegay and his wife. Jimmy has an import-export firm in France and is doing very well, I hear.

Aren't we proud of Louis Jones? Being named "Young Farmer of the Year" is certainly an honor, but you remember that Louis was well on the road to success even in high school. Both he and Bobby Grady were outstanding agricultural students. It seems Bobby preferred mechanics to farming though. He owns the Ford franchise in Mount Olive now. Have you seen his new house? It's magnificent! Both he and Cecelia Grady have new houses. Cecelia's is of a split-level design. Secretaries must make good money if that house is an example.

Do you remember how Ellen Pate used to write poetry all the time? Well, it's paid off! Her first book, "Thoughts from the Sea," rolled off the press last week. Shelby Jernigan gave a big celebration party for her. It appears that Shelby married that doctor she met in training and is very happy. I saw that Gail King and Peggy King were among those who attended the affair. They were in New York for a hair stylists convention. They have a thriving beauty shop in Greensboro beside Larry Faulk's department store.

Jean Brock who teaches home economics at the high school in Goldsboro, had her girls give a fashion show last week. The judges were Kaye Grice, a leading New York designer, and Barbara Ann Ellis, one of the top models. They were down in their home state on location at Wilmington. Barbara was posing for a section in Glamour, and Kaye had designed some outfits which Barbara was to wear especially to fit in with the scenery at Wilmington. They stopped at Terry Brown's resort in Connecticut on the trip home. Terry runs a swanky place. L. J. Grantham and Charles Swinson were resting up from the World Series. Both of them play for the Milwaukee Braves. The scouts certainly had their eye on them in high school. Jack Precycki really surprised me. I never thought he'd make head basketball coach at Wake Forest. Since he's been there, the team has shown a marked improvement. Frances Sutton is doing a feature on Jack in next Sunday's paper. Did you see where she won the O Henry Award for short stories?

About the only ones left at home are you and I. Donald Swinson and Herbert Deaver stayed around for awhile to farm, but they went in together and bought a plantation in South America where they raise sheep. I rarely see Faye Edwards and Louise Price even though they are at the hospital in Kenansville. Being night nurses, they never have time to come home. As for Shirley Wells, she's so busy with the kids, I don't see her till Sunday School and then she's too tired to have much to say. Nelson Swinson comes around when he's on leave which isn't very often. Nelson is stationed at Fort Jackson where he is an instructor for the officer's training school there.

We are really spread over the face of the earth, aren't we? It is going to be wonderful to see the gang again.

Yours,

Harper Pridgen

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

State of North Carolina
County of Duplin
Townships of Faison and Wolfscrope

We, the Senior Class of North Duplin High School in the year of our Lord, Nineteen-Hundred and Fifty-Nine, being of sound mind and realizing that our impending departure from this school is close at hand, do hereby declare and make this our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To our faculty we give our appreciation for the opportunity of sitting at their feet and partaking of their inexhaustible store of knowledge.

ARTICLE II

To the underclassmen we leave the anticipation of becoming part of a great school.

ARTICLE III

To our parents we leave our love and admiration for their loyalty.

ARTICLE IV

- I, Jane Norman Albritton, do hereby will and bequeath my radical (?) views, opinions, and cold hatred of French to Mr. Grubbs in hopes that he will abolish the cause.
- I, Marie Best, do hereby will and bequeath "Hi Y'All" to Linda Best, Billie Sue McCullen, and Nancy Pridgen who do my light work.
- I, Jean Brock, do hereby will and bequeath my excessive height to Faye Brock.
- I, Terry Brown, do hereby will and bequeath to Tommy King one toupee in case he runs out of grease.
- I, Dallas Colten, do hereby will and bequeath ten million volts to the next "jerk" who thinks an "erg" is something a hen lays.
- I, Herbert Deaver, do hereby will and bequeath a few of my muscles to help support that 6'6" frame of James Booth.
- I, Faye Edwards, do hereby will and bequeath my innocent ways to Lynda Kelly.
- I, Barbara Ann Ellis, do hereby will and bequeath a thirteen spade hand to Mrs. Oliver to be bid as a grand slam.
- I, Frances Farrior, do hereby will and bequeath my position as Mrs. Taylor's little helper to Annie King.
- I, Larry Faulk, do hereby will and bequeath my "Presley" touch and my guitar to Kenneth Avent.
- I, Joseph Foss, do hereby will and bequeath North Duplin's worn, torn, and forlorn football field to Coach Kaleel.
- I, Amelia Grady, do hereby will and bequeath "my rule of the roost" to Elizabeth Cashwell.
- I, Bobby Grady, do hereby will and bequeath one bottle of "Silky Straight" to David Underhill.
- I, Cecelia Grady, do hereby will and bequeath my cheerleader's skirt to someone about three inches taller than I am.
- I, L. J. Grantham, do hereby will and bequeath one copy of "Plain English Handbook" to Larry Outlaw.
- I, Kaye Grice, like everything I've got, namely Robert Wade Taylor. So I'll keep him.
- I, Glenda Hollingsworth, leave my brother Joe Hollingsworth to keep a watchful eye on Clayton Swinson.
- I, Alec Ivey, do hereby will and bequeath my retiring manner to Dewey McCullen.
- I, Lamar Jackson, do hereby will and bequeath my '46 Ford to the school's driver training course instructor.
- I, Ann House Jernigan, do hereby will and bequeath my "Married Woman's Blues" to Jo Ann Lewis.
- I, Shelby Jernigan, do hereby will and bequeath my acting ability to Judy Hobgood.
- I, Barbara Jones, do hereby will and bequeath my position as office girl during 6th period to Carolyn Jones.
- I, Louis Jones, do hereby will and bequeath my "secret" attraction for the girls to Johnny McKinley.
- I, Gail King, do hereby will and bequeath sixty-two screaming brats to the next person who drives bus twenty-eight.
- I, Larry King, do hereby will and bequeath my first kiss to John Clifton.
- I, Peggy King, do hereby will and bequeath my disability to hold test tubes to Helen "Butterfingers" Byrd.
- I, Jimmy Kornegay, do hereby will and bequeath this advice—"The verb to be or not to be does not take an object"—to Ralph Williamson.
- I, Sybil McCullen, do hereby will and bequeath a bottle of Abundavita to next year's Senior Class President.
- I, Ellen Pate, do hereby will and bequeath my boisterous ways to quiet Linda Gail Whitman.
- I, Jack Precythe, do hereby will and bequeath North Duplin women to the Bronx Zoo.
- I, Louise Price, do hereby will and bequeath my attraction for curb hops to Clara Bell Gardner.
- I, Harper Pridgen, do hereby will and bequeath the name "Rebel" to the next stray dog that finds his home at North Duplin.
- I, Joyce Roberts, do hereby will and bequeath my fingernails to Dracula.
- I, Berta Stroud, do hereby will and bequeath my state of frustration to James Grady.
- I, Frances Sutton, do hereby will and bequeath one electric fan to blow the chalk dust from Mr. Grubbs' finger to Joan Sutton.
- I, Charlie Swinson, do hereby will and bequeath to Mr. Wiggs, a pair of white socks so that the Seniors will not be hindered by the red glare.
- I, Donald Swinson, am of neither sound mind or body. They won't let me leave anything.
- I, Nelson Swinson, do hereby will and bequeath a sentence containing 24 successive that's in hopes that they will baffle Mrs. Hontz forever.
- I, Norman Swinson, do hereby will and bequeath a new pine floor and jar of wax polish to Mr. Hurdle—"Now it's your turn!"
- I, Wade Taylor, do hereby will and bequeath one puddle of water and a light socket to the next guy who wants a large charge.
- I, Willis Weeks, do hereby will and bequeath a double bromo to Jimmy Miller for the morning after the night before.
- I, Shirley Wells, do hereby will and bequeath to Miss Barbour the assignment of bringing flower arrangements to school.
- I, Nancy Williams, do hereby will and bequeath to my mother, Mrs. Jordan, a new menu for Monday's dinner in case of a sudden shortage of pork and beans and cheese.
- I, Cedric Jackson, do hereby will and bequeath the dynamite and blasting caps in the furnace room to Doug Kennedy in hope that he will liberate his fellow sufferers forever.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Bubble gum, bobby socks, and many books signify Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors, the underclassmen. As Freshmen, they eagerly enter high school only to find that the work is twice as hard, the discipline more strict, and that they will be treated roughly their first year. In their Sophomore year, the load lessens and they have a chance to get acquainted with their school and their classmates. Then the boom falls. Smothered in lessons their Junior year, they find that they really do better work when they are busy. In later years they will not remember the work. They will remember that as underclassmen they made their friends; they shaped their lives' vocation and that those years were some of the best of their lives.

REBELIZING

ATHLETICS

A ball, two teams, and the cheering of the fans donates athletics. In the past years, sports have become more and more important in high school. Games are followed with closer attention and fans come out in larger numbers. A winning team reflects honor on its school and its athletes are admired and envied. Above all, sports have been played and will continue to be played to develop good sportsmanship in young people.

ACTIVITIES

Dancing, music, and laughter signify our social activities. These activities include clubs from our classes at school, our plays, our dances, and our fellowship with other students. The latter is all-important. The ability to get along with other people is developed here in these clubs and in future years many decisive factors will rest on this ability to get along with others. Possibly these activities will be remembered long after all else has been forgotten.

Louis Jones, a Senior at North Duplin, was declared State Champion in the North Carolina 4-H Commercial Vegetables Crops Project for 1958. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Jones of Faison, "Louie" as State Champion received an all-expense paid trip to the 37th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 30-December 4.

Louis is seventeen years old. He has served as reporter for the North Duplin 4-H Club and is on the Duplin 4-H County Council. Louis is active in Boy Scouts, in his church, and in his Sunday School.

The Duplin 4-H'er has had projects in sweet potatoes, peppers, cucumbers, beans, Irish potatoes, tobacco, corn, and poultry. He was a member of the winning county vegetable judging team and competed in the state contest. He has been selected as second and third place winner in the National Junior Vegetable Growers Contest in North Carolina. Louis placed first for two years in the Wallace Junior Tobacco Show.

North Duplin has reason to be proud of Louis Jones in view of his accomplishments.

JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET - 1958

Every high school has one social event that is looked forward to during the school year. At North Duplin, this banquet and dance is called our Junior-Senior. The banquet for the year 1957-58 was held for the first time in the new school cafeteria. The theme was "In an Old Chinese Garden."

DANCE

The music for the dance held after the banquet was provided by the Dave Brown Orchestra. Underneath the Chinese lanterns and wind chimes the Juniors and Seniors danced till 12:00. Then the Junior Class held a party at a private home. A gala night long to be remembered!

P-S-S-T-T, BUDDY, I'M A CUCUMBER

...and a mighty proud one too, for I'm headed for bigger and better things. You say you don't dig a "cuke's" line of thinking?...Well, lend an ear, man, and I'll clue you in. I'm just one of the many cucumbers who have been care-chosen to become CATES PICKLES...not bragging, mind you, but to us cukes, this indeed is a distinction worthy of being proud.

One of the best known facts around any cucumber patch is the dream of practically all cukes to spend a spell lolling and snoozing in those salt water tanks behind the plant at Faison...then to be expertly processed into a full-fledged pickle in that special Cates manner. Man, in a cuke's way of thinking, that's living in style...and it's a happy cuke that makes the grade.

So take a tip from me when you enjoy a jar of CATES PICKLES...and rest assured that we're the pick of the patch, prepared to that delicious Cates perfection. Remember, there are...
